SHANGHAI, Oct. 31, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- Cedrus Investments ("Cedrus"), a global boutique investment firm,  will host a life sciences luncheon on Tuesday, 1st November, 2016 in Shanghai at the Mandarin Oriental. At this exclusive, invitation-only event, Cedrus' will bring together leading institutional investors, venture capitalists, and company executives, to hear Cedrus' Chief Life Sciences Technical Advisor and Cedrus' Life Sciences Advisory Board member, Mr. Randy Hice, sharing his insights on two critical trends in biotechnology: "The Changing CFDA" and "The Impact of Supercomputing on Gene Therapy and Discovery". Randy is a recognized world authority in laboratory informatics. Moreover, Randy is the most published author in the world of laboratory automation and workflow analysis and has served as the monthly Laboratory Automation editor for the Scientific Computing magazine since 1996. He has also contributed to American Pharmaceutical Review and American Laboratory.

This is the first of an ongoing series of luncheons that Cedrus has planned to bring experts in various related fields to China to discuss important global and local topics in the life sciences industry. Cedrus is leveraging its in-depth industry experience and trusted global networks to facilitate and bolster the flow of knowledge, business, technology, and investment between China and the rest of the world.

Cedrus' Chairman, Mr. Rani Jarkas said, "China is quickly emerging as a major player in the global life sciences industry, and Cedrus aims to become a leader and trusted regional partner for inbound and outbound capital flow, investment banking and business transactions. We are delighted to host this event, providing a unique opportunity for our valued clients and partners to learn about exciting industry trends and insights, and benefit from the exchange of business ideas and investment opportunities."
